Skanderborg Sø Camping – A Scenic Camp Site in Denmark

The intention of this brochure is to give you a sense of all the endless possibilities you have for beautiful tours in the environment. Most of our descriptions, maps, practical information etc. is available for free when you stay at Skanderborg Sø Camping.

The Danish Lake District

Whether you would like to walk for an hour, a whole day or something in between, you will find exciting options in one of Denmark's most beautiful natural areas; The Danish Lake District, in which Skanderborg is situated.

Here is a large diversity in the landscape with lakes, creeks, woods, moors, hills and valleys. Here are marked paths and free nature. Here is space for silence and peace and room for immersion. You can experience the nature on your own or participate in guided tours and learn about nature and culture of the environs.

Did you know that it is possible to climb “mountains” in Denmark? In the Danish Lake District, there are several summits of more than 100 meters above sea level. 15 of them are now mapped and described with GPS-positions. Some have a steep ascending, but all can be done with just a normal physical fitness and when you reach the top, you will be rewarded with marvellous views.

Skanderborg Sø Camping – A Scenic Camp Site in Denmark

1,5 km from Skanderborg Sø Camping is Skanderborg woods, which is a nice, old beech forest. A few hundred metres from the campsite is a track leading to the woods and a lovely path along the lake. From the track you can also continue to the “swamppath” which is a wooden bridge through a swamp, which enables you to see flora and fauna that is otherwise not accessible.

Furthermore, we have several suggestions for tours in forests, along lakes and inlets, through the open landscape etc. all within a short driving distance from the campsite.
